From Leeds City Centre and the South

Follow the signs for the A64 to York. Once on this road, after about three miles there is a major junction with traffic lights, where you should turn right for Temple Newsam on the A63. After about half a mile, bear left at the next set of traffic lights and then second left into Chapel Street (which becomes Cross Green Lane) and then left at the Leodis pub. Morritt Avenue can then be seen opposite and Brigid House is at the bottom of the cul-de-sac on the left hand side.

From the North and Ring Road

Leave the ring road at Cross Green Lane (near Cross Gates railway station and a large pet shop called "Paws for Thought"). Shortly you will see the Leodis pub in front of you, take the next right, which is Morritt Avenue. Brigid House is at the bottom of the cul-de-sac on the left hand side.

By Public Transport

From the city centre, Cross Green Lane is served by the following buses: 40, 163, 164, 165. Alight at the Leodis pub and follow the directions given above.
